NEW DIGS

A lot has been happening here lately at GriffithLaw. For far too long – we needed more space. Our old Seaboard location served its purpose well, but over the past 2-3 years we have outgrown space.

I had my eye on our current building for a while and had approached the owner multiple times asking him to consider selling me the property. He finally did and we went to work completely remodeling the new space.

During our renovations we had multiple frustrations with the Williamson County Code Department. These complications delayed our move in date by six months after we planned our initial move.

But now we are IN!

Since moving in – it feels like our office is alive, like a breathing creature. This past week we were busy with all 3 conference rooms filled with great things happening for our clients.

*“So I throw up my hands and praise you again and again
‘Cause all that I have is a hallelujah, hallelujah
And I know it’s not much, but I’ve nothin else fit for a King
Except for a heart singin’, hallelujah, hallelujah “*

Raving Client Review

“I was involved in a vehicle crash that took me out of work. I was lost and completely uncertain about my future. John’s firm guided me through the process and helped ease my tensions through my recovery process. I’m extremely grateful to the firm for affording me peace of mind throughout the incredibly difficult road and ongoing road to recovery.”
